

Radiochemist

Welcome to one of Sweden's most innovative young start-ups. Alpha Therapy Solutions (ATS) is a knowledge-driven company based in Gothenburg that is tackling one of the biggest challenges in global health, head on. The production technology that we are developing will significantly facilitate the development of life-saving radiopharmaceuticals that will be of great use in the global fight against cancer.

The ATS family is dedicated and tight knit, and we offer our employees significant freedom and short decision pathways. This makes work here both fun and dynamic!

We are now looking to expand our family by hiring a Radiochemist who will play an indispensable role in delivering our product and service offering to customers.

Role

In this role, you will be responsible for delivering services to customers, as well as assist in product/service development, and technical sales. You will have the opportunity to travel, visiting customer sites as well as conferences around the globe. You will work in close collaboration with, and report directly to, C-level executives. The role is 60 – 100% of a full-time role and will start in January 2021, or upon agreement.

What You'll Do

- Develop and perform production processes for purifying At-211 and radiolabelling tumour-specific carrier molecules
- Perform feasibility studies on behalf of customers
- Help customers develop and optimise their production processes using ATS hardware
- Assist in technical sales
- Perform maintenance and repair operations on ATS technology installed at customer sites
- Assist in product/service development

Who You Are

- You will have a master's degree (or higher) in a field related to nuclear medicine or radiochemistry
- You preferably have experience working with production processes for radiopharmaceuticals
- You are comfortable working both at a desk and in a lab
- You are fluent in English
- As a person you are a keen traveller, able to work both independently and part of team, and you are ambitious and ready to make a global impact

Why ATS?

ATS is a young company aiming to make a large and lasting impact on global health. In this role, you will not only be given the freedom to define and develop yourself and your role, but the work you do will also directly impact the global fight against cancer.
